

SHERIFF'S OFFICIALS say the slaughter of this sheep in the Mission Hills area Thursday morning led to the arrest of four men on charges of rustling.

Local rustling ring broken with arrest of four men

Sheriff's officials and agents of the California Brands Association, say they have broken a cattle rustling ring with the arrest of three Lompoc area men and another from Santa Maria.

All await court action today on five counts of grand theft, bovine. Jailed for slaughter of cattle or sheep were Russell Keith Rankin, 19, of 118 North E St., Edwin Howard Friar, 32, of 201 E. College Ave., both in Lompoc; and Randy Allan Hooker, 19, of 3492 Via Arnez, Jailed in Santa Maria under the same charges was Dennis McVay, no age, or home address given.

The four are charged with slaughtering cattle on the Pete Valla Ranch, near Mission Hills; the Cojo Ranch, and a ranch in the Santa Maria area.

Shaky Vietnam truce survives new shooting

SAIGON (UPI) — The complex process of laying down arms went on in Vietnam Friday despite new charges of truce violations, the shooting down of an American helicopter and frayed diplomatic nerves.

In neighboring Cambodia, government troops recaptured some ground from Communist Khmer Rouge troops who had laid siege to vital supply points leading from South Vietnam to the Cambodian capital of Phnom Penh.

In the tenuous Vietnam truce, the South Vietnamese command listed a total of 3,378 cease-fire violations since the truce was signed in Paris Jan. 27. As a result, the command reported, 6,487 Communists, 1,113 government soldiers and 53 civilians have been wounded, 18 civilians abducted, 900 government soldiers have been listed as missing and 195 Communists captured.

South Vietnam's Foreign Ministry announced Friday it has filed its eighth protest with the four parties of the International Commission for Control and Supervision (ICCS) against the cease-fire violations.

None of the protests has been acted upon, a Foreign Ministry spokesman said. "We wait and wonder what the results will be," he said.

To date, the wide majority of the cease-fire violations have been reported between North Vietnam and the South Vietnamese.

However early Friday, an unarmed U.S. Army CH47 Chinook helicopter on a supply run for the Joint Military Commission (JMC) was shot down by automatic weapons fire from a contested area eight miles south of An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon. Five Americans were wounded and the helicopter destroyed.

It was the first American helicopter shot down since the cease-fire, but at least three others have been hit by ground fire, along with a U.S. Air Force C130, since the "truce" began. Ten Americans have been wounded, one of them fatally, in the incidents.

The five wounded crewmen from the CH47 were rescued by an unarmed Army UH1 Huey "dustoff" medical evacuation chopper, which flew through a hail of fire to reach them.

20 POWs enroute Travis, 20 more to leave Hanoi

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (UPI) — A planeload of 20 more Vietnam war prisoners left Clark Air Base at 9:30 a.m. today (8:30 p.m. EST Friday) for Travis Air Base near San Francisco. They were the last of 142 prisoners brought to Clark from Indochina Monday.

Another 20 POWs were set to arrive Sunday from Hanoi to this American base in the Philippines. North Vietnam announced it would free the men after U.S. presidential adviser Henry Kissinger visited Hanoi this week.

A total of 60 men returned Friday in three C141 flying ambulances for Travis Air Force Base, Calif., to form the biggest single "freedom lift" of the week.

A total of 143 American prisoners, including eight civilians, were released Monday and all but one civilian flown to Clark air base for medical examinations, new clothes, rest and processing. Two flew to the United States Tuesday, 20 left on Wednesday, 40 left Thursday and 60 Friday. The single civilian, who remained in Vietnam, flew to San Francisco direct from Saigon Thursday.

At the arrival here Friday of the first of three "freedom flights" carrying 20 men each, POW Air Force Capt. David E. Baker waved away a wheelchair and made his way slowly down the plane ramp and across 100 feet of runway on crutches.

The welcoming ceremonies came to a temporary halt and the crowd of 250 grew silent as Baker, of Huntington, N.Y., eased his way to the two generals waiting to receive him. He paused in front of Maj. Gen. John F. Gong, stashed one crutch under his arm and gave a weak-elbowed salute. The crowd applauded vigorously. Then Baker used the crutch to move to Brig. Gen. Ralph Saunders, made another salute and received another round of applause.

The arrival of the 60 men here left only 20 former prisoners at Clark. All of the other 143 POWs released Monday by North Vietnam and the Viet Cong have returned to the United States.

A Clark spokesman was asked if there were medical reasons why the last 20 men remained at the base so long. "Some just take longer to process than others," he said, adding the men were to fly home Saturday.

"It has been a long time coming, but we are finally going home—home to the greatest country in the whole wide world," said Navy Lt. Cmdr. Everett Alvarez before leaving on the flight from Clark Air Base in the Philippines. Alvarez was a POW in North Vietnam longer than any other—8 1/2 years.

Army court upholds Calley's 20 year term

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An Army court upheld Friday the conviction and two-year sentence of 1st Lt. William L. Calley Jr. for his part in the My Lai massacre. "He committed an atrocity (and) the approved sentence is not too severe a consequence of his choosing to commit mass murder," the court said.

Capt. J. Houston Gordon, Calley's 26-year-old military attorney, said he would appeal the decision by the Army's Court of Military Review to the higher Court of Military Appeals, comprised of three civilian judges and often called the supreme court of the armed forces.

Calley's attorneys had argued that there were 32 errors in the conduct of the trial, mostly intricate legal points questioning the manner in which the charges were framed, the admissibility of some evidence and the authority of the court martial to try Calley.

In their 104-page opinion the three-judge court concluded unanimously: "No doubt Lt. Calley would never have directed or participated in a mass killing in time of peace. Nevertheless, he committed an atrocity in time of war and it is in the context of war that we judge him. Destructive as war is, war is not an occasion for the unrestrained satisfaction of an individual soldier's proclivity to kill..."

"Probably Lt. Calley's judgment, preception and stability were lesser in quality than the average lieutenant's, and these deficiencies are mitigating to some extent. However, the deficiencies did not even approach the point of depriving him of the power of choice. The approved sentence is not too severe a consequence of his choosing to commit mass murder."

Calley, 29, was convicted March 31, 1971, of killing "not less than 22" South Vietnamese civilians.

Reinecke aide quits, claims he was used

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke's top aide abruptly resigned Friday, insisting he had been "used" by a man with a long arrest record who reportedly capitalized on his association with the lieutenant governor to gain favors with police.

Reinecke, who plans to seek the Republican nomination for governor next year, accepted the resignation of Morris E. Currey, 43, his $28,872-a-year executive assistant. He said the action was in the "best interest of the office and the administration."

The action followed disclosure by the Los Angeles Times that Jerome A. Pierce, 35, a Hollywood financial consultant, traded on his friendship with Currey to obtain favors from Irwindale police, including permits to carry concealed weapons.

Pierce Friday pleaded innocent in Los Angeles County Superior Court to felony charges involving an alleged $3,856 insurance fraud.

Farr will face House board on freedom of information

WASHINGTON (UPI) — William T. Farr, a Los Angeles Times reporter who spent 46 days in jail rather than reveal his sources for a news article, will testify next month before a House subcommittee considering bills to protect a newsman's confidential sources.

Rep. Jerome Waldie, D-Calif., said today Farr would support a bill Waldie introduced under which reporters could not be compelled to disclose sources of published and unpublished information.

Waldie said Farr's testimony March 7 at a hearing of a House Judiciary subcommittee would offer "a frighteningly dramatic example of what has happened to just one newsman attempting to simply do his job in today's current climate of attempted intimidation and repression."

Farr was jailed for civil contempt for refusing to reveal the source of material for a story he wrote for the Los Angeles Herald Examiner during the Sharon Tate murder trial.

Supreme Court Associate Justice William O. Douglas ordered Farr released Jan. 11 "in the interest of justice" while the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit reviews his case.

Waldie is among members of Congress and at least three reporters scheduled to testify Tuesday when the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights opens hearings on legislation to shield reporters from forced disclosures.

At least 28 bills have been introduced in the wake of last year's Supreme Court ruling that nothing in the Constitution prevents newsmen from being compelled to testify.

Waldie said Farr has spent "his life's savings in adhering to his conscience and in support of our public's right to know. It is for us now to seek an understanding of what democratic principle was so important and precious in Bill Farr's mind that he was willing to go to jail to preserve what really was not his personal right, but our right."

Growth views aired by Dr. Duncan

By STEVE LA RUE
Staff Writer

Amid the opening rounds of the growth vs. no growth county planning fusillade, County Planning Commissioner Dr. Milton Duncan of Lompoc calmly views the incipient land use clash as focusing on residential density.

And density, the doctor says, has far too disreputable a name for the value we humans really place upon it.

The whole "to grow or not to grow" question comes to county planning and politics with the election of no growth supervisors Frank Frost (Montecito-Carpinteria) and James Slater (Santa Ynez-Goleta) who have made appropriate planning commission appointments. Their stands to date lean toward restricting development on environmental grounds and also because they consider elevated residential density a detriment to a maximum quality of life.

Duncan, viewing the species with a medical discipline, thinks that we partially disprove Frost's contention with our behavior.

"I get rather bored with the idea that people think that everyone wants a nice open space to live," the physician and 32 year senior commissioner confided.

"Good Lord, why do people clamor and go into the cities in the evenings and go into big stadiums and into crowded theatres and night clubs? They don't do that because they don't want to.

"Actually, I don't have much faith or interest in this argument about density. Cities are supposed to be dense. That's why people come together. They like it that way. Even in some of their social activities they insist on density... If you're going to have a city, it should be dense.

"Another thing about it is that people who live in these places are not compelled to. If you don't like density, there are plenty of other places to live.

"Your job might confine you, most jobs do. But jobs, incidentally, imply density too."

The idea of expansive estates to live on is greatly overdone, with human behavior taken into view, the doctor added. Most people take very poor care of a very small lot. And they like neighbors or else they wouldn't have them.

"When it comes to a question of growth or no growth, that's largely a question of what the populous itself is going to do about reproduction. If we don't have more people, we won't have to find more places for more people."

While areas like Los Angeles have seen decreases in immigration and the over building of many hospital maternity departments reflect earlier optimistic predictions about population growth, he said, "one thing that seems quite evident is that Lompoc has lots of people coming in, which isn't explained by circumstances of industry or anything else."

Growth, then, still has its place in the north county in Duncan's view. The physician, in fact, favors the proposed Insignis development in the Santa Ynez Valley, though he does not believe that, if the development is finally allowed, the rezoning involved would create a precedent allowing the approval of similar developments in the Lompoc area.

Proposal

Time and again we see political liberals struggling to uncoil themselves from measures they are primarily responsible for having constricted themselves in. There is no better example than the recent recommendation of Governor Nelson Rockefeller, now being hotly debated, that drug pushers be sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of parole. The Governor is in this bind, of course, because of his doctrinaire opposition to capital punishment.

If one defers to the commandment that under no circumstances should the state execute a convicted man, then of course the question is closed, and there is no point in arguing the case. But those who are dogmatically opposed to capital punishment are not entitled to reason that they have opposed the cruelest act a state is capable of committing.

Surely the proposal of Nelson Rockefeller is more cruel to an offender than anything an executioner does to him. And those who in opposing capital punishment lay special stress on the awful effect of executions on society should pause. Surely it demeans a society more to rule that under no circumstances whatsoever will society forgive a man, at any point in the future, than to execute him. An execution causes the society that sanctioned it to wince. External incarceration, other than for the purpose of protecting society against an unrehabilitatable criminal, causes society — or should — nothing less than an encephalaphonic cry of the heart.

It is instructive to recall that the mood, when Leopold and Leob were convicted, was in favor of executing them. They had committed a crime against an innocent little boy which was, quite simply, unpardonable. The judge, yielding to the entreaties of a very persuasive attorney, ruled instead that because of their tender age he would sentence them to life plus life — that he would throw away the key. Thus did he appease the public. But as the years went by, Leob died in prison, and then Leopold, after a dozen appeals for clemency, finally received parole, went off to do medical missionary work in Puerto Rico, and in due course died.

It was right to let Leopold go, finally. It is anti-human to proscribe compassion; to say to oneself — I forbid forgiveness, and I enjoin my successors to forbid forgiveness; indeed, I call on the legislature to deprive my successors of the executive privilege to commute a sentence. And yet one's heart cries out also for means by which to express oneself and the hideousness of the trade by which the pusher makes his living (and sates his habit). Nelson Rockefeller has tried to situate the crime of peddling heroin where it belongs — as among the most heinous of human professions. Having eliminated the death penalty, he wishes to prescribe the most horrible thing this side of the death penalty. He has succeeded only in prescribing something more horrible than the death penalty.

The legislature in Albany would do well, of course, to attempt to make the working distinction between the professional pusher and the pusher who is driven only by the desperation of his own craving. Granted the line blurs, and granted also that some in the latter category graduate into the former. But even as he recognizes there are differences between murder as a crime of passion, and murder for hire, there are analogous differences among dope pushers. The emphasis should be made on reasonably distinguishing between the two: perhaps the cash volume of the transaction is the best test. A jury is probably the most competent judge, in any case. And then, the professionals should be sentenced to death.

One shrinks from the medieval concern to design modes of death particularly appropriate to the crime of the offender. Such literature is appealing mostly to those who get their kicks out of reading books like "The Torture Garden." But it is not, I should think, inappropriate to suggest that a condign means of ridding the world of convicted heroin pushers is to prescribe an overdose. It happens that it is a humane way of dying, if one defines humane as relatively painless. And, of course, there is a rabbinical satisfaction in the idea that the pusher should leave this world in such circumstances as he has caused others to leave it, excepting this, that the pusher's last days, in the shelter of death house, would be infinitely more pleasant than the last days of those whom he has, by the practice of his profession, tortured to death.

Carpinteria asks health services

Carpinteria Health Services Committee has requested the Board of Supervisors to establish a primary health care clinic with a full-time physician for the city of Carpinteria. The request came from Cres De Alba, chairman of the Carpinteria Valley Community Council, and a member of the committee. De Alba said the committee which was set up recently by the council has the duty of "seeking to alleviate the problems stemming from lack of adequate health services" in the community.

De Alba pointed out in his letter, which will go before the county supervisors next week, that a similar effort was spearheaded in the city of Santa Barbara by a Community Health Task Force on behalf of Eastside residents.

This task force could be directed to help implement a clinic for Carpinteria, according to De Alba.

Large award ceremony on base

One of Vandenberg's largest and most prestigious awards ceremonies was held here recently, with four of the nine persons honored receiving the Distinguished Flying Cross (DFC) or oak leaf clusters to that award. Each oak leaf cluster signifies the presentation of the medal for a second or succeeding time.

The Distinguished Flying Cross is one of the Air Force's highest awards and is the most significant one awarded for extraordinary achievement or heroism during aerial flight.

Major General Salvador E. Felices commander, 1st Strategic Aerospace Division, presided over the ceremony and presented the awards to those being honored.

Receiving the Distinguished Flying Cross were: Lieutenant Colonel Austin A. Barnard and Lieutenant Colonel James J. Ely, both of the 1st Strategic Aerospace Division, and Lieutenant Colonel Delmar A. Worms and Captain Bill T. Eggers, both of the 4392nd Aerospace Support Group.

Colonels Barnard and Ely received the DFC for extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight as navigators over the Republic of Vietnam and Southeast Asia. Colonel Worms was awarded the DFC for extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight as a navigator over Southeast Asia.

Lieutenant Eggers won the DFC for heroism while participating in aerial flight as a forward air controller over the Republic of Vietnam. He was cited for making repeated rocket marking passes for supporting tactical aircraft in the face of marginal weather and intense anti-aircraft fire.

Colonel Ely also was presented the third through seventh and the eighth Oak Leaf Clusters to the Air Medal for outstanding airmanship and courage exhibited in the successful accomplishment of important missions under extremely hazardous conditions.

Lieutenant Eggers was also awarded the Air Medal for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight. Lieutenant Colonel Robert W. Hoffman, base deputy commander, was presented the Joint Service Commendation Medal for meritorious service with the Joint Strategic Target Planning Staff at Offutt

AFB, Neb. Bronze Star medals were awarded to Major Robert S. Baldassano, 1STRAD; Captain Robert J. Koester, 4392 Aerospace Support Group and Master Sergeant Fred L. Hill, 4392nd Civil Engineering Squadron. All were for meritorious service while performing specific duties in Thailand.

Staff Sergeant Dale S. Faulkner, 4392nd ASG, received the Air Medal for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight in Southeast Asia.

County Planning Commission member Robert Lilley, of Lompoc, terms this a "very interesting situation." He made the comments in connection with the granting of a use permit this week for a dog kennel on Betteravia Rd. in an area under the airport flight pattern. The point was made that a residential area whose occupants opposed the kennel was zoned for industrial purposes and not residential because planes coursed over the area.

"The airport district has tended to discourage building under the flight zone," said Lilley. "There is a similar situation in the area of the Santa Barbara Municipal Airport at Goleta where an industrial zone was optimistically slapped on a residential area."

Santa Maria Airport General Manager Everett W. Berry, meanwhile, has informed county authorities that he disagrees with a statement made in an environmental report that pictures "a location at

Fire official warns on fuel

Acting Fire Chief Ron Boggs announces today that kerosene lamps and fondue dishes can be hazardous if the wrong type fuel is used. Boggs said kerosene lamps are designed to burn a reasonably clean burning high flash point kerosene. Burning white gas or gasoline could turn your lamp into a molotov cocktail. These are not only illegal, but also very dangerous. A few months ago, a man was very seriously burned while filling a kerosene lamp with white gas. Boggs also said that people were using gasoline in fondue dishes. This smokes up the dishes and is also dangerous. The Fire Department urges citizens to call them at REgent 6-4513 before substituting fuels in any heating or light producing appliance. Extreme precautions should be taken while filling any burning appliance.

Spring start seen for new Co. agency

The newly-approved County Environmental Agency isn't likely to be functioning before late spring, and it may take later than that for it to get underway, county officials say.

County Administrative Officer Raymond D. Johnson, under whose office the agency would work, has estimated it might take two or three months to set it up.

The agency plan was narrowly approved, 3-2, several weeks ago with new Supervisors Frank Frost and James Slater in opposition to the agency plan. Slater had wanted it to be part of the "overall planning function," while Frost felt it best not to add a new agency at this time due to likely slackening of developments.

By utilizing a coordinator, NEW YORK (UPI) — Starting today, a ride on the Staten Island Ferry could cost $50.05.

Charles Leedham, city commissioner of marine and aviation, has announced that anyone riding the ferry who plays a noisy tape recorder, radio or phonograph will be hit with a $50 summons for creating a public nuisance.

Leedham said "Noise is unwanted sound and unwanted sound is unhealthy... Riders have a right to peace and quiet."

He suggested that radio addicts install an ear-piece on their equipment "which would permit them to enjoy what they hear without inflicting" it on others. "The choice is bedlam or a livable noise level," Leedham said.

technical writers and clerical staff, the agency could turn out county environmental impact assessments of projects rather than depend on developers to marshal much of the information needed.

In addition to recruiting an environmental agency staff, the county personnel department is also in the process of recruiting to fill other major county positions which have been vacated in recent months. A county petroleum engineer is to be selected, along with an assistant county hospital administrator, and an assistant county surveyor.

Indeterminate sentences: good or bad

By STEVE LARUE
Staff Writer

The indeterminate sentence: the theory sounds so good.

And it nearly works, except for two things. It seems to generate funds of anxiety and resentment in inmates and, according to California Federal Public Defender John Van De Camp, it returns twice as many of them to prison for repeat crimes than straight sentences.

The theory is this: inmates earn release dates by performance in prison. They are not told when they will be released because that depends. They are told that they can earn freedom earlier by completing an individualized program of education and vocational and other training. The parole board has the final word.

There are several classes of indeterminate sentencing. The state of California uses the procedure almost exclusively. Federal penitentiaries like FCI Lompoc use it only with offenders under the federal Youth Corrections Act (1950) and sentence adult offenders (over 26 at time of conviction) to straight sentences.

In fact, according to Lompoc Warden Frank Kenton, most inmates under YCA sentences are freed earlier on the average than straight sentence inmates for comparable offenses.

"I'll say this," Kenton said, "We have carefully studied this. While the theory of this is excellent, the inmates reject it almost to a man."

"Theoretically you would think that the indeterminate sentence is the ideal. You write your own ticket, you can get a quick release. Most frequently that's how it works out. It actually works very close to the theory except the inmates can't stand the anxiety and apprehension."

"This is the weakness. No matter how bad it is, they want to see it so they can know it. Otherwise it can become unbearable. A cockroach can become a lion. There's nothing you can put your finger on but it leads to anxiety, worry, apprehension, fear."

Kenton said that he once selected four inmates to talk with California Senator Alan Cranston by randomly sticking his arm into the four o'clock lock-up rush and picking the first man who hit his arm. All four were on YCA terms and all said they'd prefer straight sentences.

Three YCA inmates interviewed yesterday showed a unanimous resentment for the system under which they would not be told of their release date perhaps until very close to their final day.

These inmates felt they had been lied to. They are being kept on tenterhooks about their sentences, they said, not to help them but to allow prison officials to point to the high school diplomas and other program increments they are forced to complete to avoid longer terms.

"They say you can get out in from 60 days to six years," a young heroin sales offender related. "That's what I was told. Naturally when the judge tells you that you say, 'Wow, out of sight! You're happy to accept it. Then you get in and you find that nobody gets out in under a year. (18 months is the average time spent at FCI by YCA offenders sentenced to six years indeterminate.)"

"They hang it over your head. You can be held for six years if you mess up in any little way. It's like you were in limbo, you know? I'm working for the (parole) board. I've got to work for them before I can work for myself."

These inmates also feel that they are lied to when they're told that their cases are individually considered. Caseworkers are so flooded, they say, that they frequently don't remember names of even long term prisoners.

The belief inside is that inmates with comparable crimes serve comparable sentences and that the parole board has predicted most cases regardless of interviews of YCA fulfillment. The institution simply doesn't have the facilities to make the personalized evaluations claimed for the YCA program.

So, what's left in the view of these inmates is a system that keeps them vulnerable to longer than average terms and keeps them agonizing over their release dates but offers no advantages and, moreover, they feel, is a lie.

"The authorities have no way of seeing when an inmate is becoming

10 file for school trustee

A tenth and final candidate for the school board race tossed his hat in the political ring yesterday before Dep. County Clerk Ann Sweet ended filing formalities for the April 17 election.

In under the wire today was Richard L. Dinkel of 130 Deneb Pl., Vandenberg Village.

Two seats will be contested on the five-member board.

The candidates in alphabetical order are: Evan R. Brossman, Dinkel, Billie Grider, DeWayne Holmdahl, Richard K. Jacoby, Edward Kranz, Julio Longoria, George Mills, Theodore Snyder and Gail Steiger.

Four candidates nights or forums have been scheduled. La Mesa School PTA will hold one on March 22; the Rev. Kenneth R. Boyd will conduct one at First United Presbyterian Church on March 28; Lompoc Valley Press Club will conduct a press conference-type program on a date yet to be selected; the American Association of University Women will conduct a meet the candidates' forum on April 4.

Ron L. Lindemann

Manager told for S and L

Ron L. Lindemann has been appointed manager of the Lompoc branch office of Mission Federal Savings and Loan Association, president William L. Coulson, Jr. announced today. The office is scheduled to open this spring at 638 North H Street, opposite the Lompoc Shopping Center. It will be Lompoc's first federally chartered savings institution.

Lindemann has been serving as assistant manager of Mission Federal's Camarillo office. A native of Huntington, West Virginia, he has spent a number of years with savings and loan associations in the Los Angeles area and Florida.

Mission Federal's Lompoc office will be the association's fourth facility in Santa Barbara County. Its headquarters office is in downtown Santa Barbara, and it has branches in the San Roque area of Santa Barbara and in the Fairview Shopping Center, Goleta.

Its assets currently exceed $125 million.

Details of the grand opening of the Lompoc office will be announced in March, Coulson said.

MH Council meeting to be Wednesday

Mission Hills Community Council will hold a meeting Wednesday, February 21st at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Center corner of Burton Mesa Blvd., and Via Lato, Mission Hills. John Spooner, president, urges the people of Mission Hills to attend.

Nominations of officers for the coming year will be accepted from the floor. Those nominated thus far are: Bob Keeping, president; Mat Prang, vice president; Robert Cunningham, treasurer; Frances Johnson, corresponding secretary; John Richardson, recording secretary.

The residents may become members of the Mission Hills Community Council for $1.00, and are invited to attend.

Obituary

Herbert J. Kleber

Funeral arrangements were pending yesterday at Starbuck Mortuary for Herbert J. Kleber, 71, who died Friday in Lompoc.

Mr. Kleber lived at 610 E. Pine Ave., Sp. 75.

Among the survivors is his wife, Jane.

Lompoc S and L merger approved

The Lompoc Savings and Loan Association yesterday received the approval of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Washington for its proposed merger with Imperial Savings of Central California, the last agency approval required before the merger can go through.

During the last five years the association's assets increased from $11 million to close to $21 million and net income after taxes has jumped from $80,000 in 1968 to $268,000 last year, it was announced.

Lawrence C. Grossman, president of Lompoc Savings and Loan, received word of the approval during a conversation with Reece Dorr, vice president of the Imperial Savings of Central California.

Grossman announced that Don Ashbrook, executive vice president and general manager of the local savings and loan, has submitted his resignation effective Feb. 20 and has accepted a position as a managing officer with another savings and loan company in the San Diego area.

United Fund banquet held

The Lompoc Valley United Fund held its Annual Dinner Meeting Thursday at the Lion's Inn, with 45 guests attending. Master of Ceremonies was Hugh D. Young. Mike Siminski, president, welcomed the Agency representatives and volunteers of the 1973 Campaign, and explained the workings of the Board of Directors of the Fund.

Siminski announced that some $65,000 had been distributed to the 17 Youth, Health and Welfare Agencies during 1972 and that the outcome for 1973's Campaign looked just about the same, so that the Agencies could expect just about the same monies from the fund in 1973.

Award certificates were given to the City of Lompoc, Lompoc Hospital, J.C. Penney Co., Johns-Manville and to McDonald's which had sponsored a successful United Fund Day last November.

A special plaque was given to Larry Flinkingshelt, 1973 Campaign Chairman. Elected to the Fund for the coming year was Mike A. Siminski, President, Vice Presidents Hugh D. Young and E.W. Cox, Secretary Barbara Mascasak and Treasurer Charlotte Benton.

Council set to consider storm drain

The Lompoc City Council is expected to consider a "backbone" storm drain system proposed by Councilman Sol Lefkowitz and approved by the city drainage committee, when it meets in regular session Tuesday night, 7:30 at City Hall.

The proposal calls for the project to be completed before the next rain season and would provide relief for the major flood areas in the city.

The construction cost is estimated at $482,000 which Lefkowitz, who will present the proposal to the council, says can be paid for with present funding available to the city.

In other business the council will consider purchasing a bus from the school district for $1,301 ($3,000 has been budgeted for this purpose); appointments to the Area Planning Council technical transportation advisory committee; authorization to file claim for non-transit transportation funds totaling $181,754; a request for deflection testing of city streets, and authorization for additional soil analyses in the wastewater project.

The council will also consider the second reading and adoption of an ordinance providing for building construction fees and the first reading of an ordinance amending water service connection fees.

Dr. Duncan's views

Citing what he believes significant differences between the Insignis project and the defeated El Capitan development, the long time local commissioner added that the planning commission would shun any idea of such a precedent and rule on development proposals individually. He would probably not favor, he said, an Insignis-type development in the Lompoc Valley because of the vast differences between this and the Valley to the east.

While describing as over emphasized commission opposition between north county growth and south county no growth commissioners, Duncan took his own swipes at the county general plan, a prime jousting grounds for disagreeing factions.

The general plan overlaying of density designations for future residential developments on land presently zoned agricultural is a ranking item on the doctor's list of required revisions.

If all areas were developed to the extent now allowable under these general plan overlays, according to Duncan, the population of the county would approach 750,000. There are only 300,000 county residents now, so it seems clear that much of the agricultural land will have to remain, he said. The present general plan remains vague as to which parcels.

"I'm absolutely opposed to this and I hope we can do something about it in the next few years. Most of the land developers look upon any buildable area as something to develop."

"Now, it's not all going to be developed anyway; it shouldn't. And to have this land always labeled, as a great many of these areas are, as for a certain size plot and so forth, I'd like to see that stopped entirely on any plan. It's an invitation."

If the developer has a plan for a given parcel, consults with community and other agencies and presents an attractive and needed plan to the commission, the doctor said, the board should rule on the request and density requirements at that time.

But the whole concept of dividing the rolling and, much of it, privately owned county land into a gridwork and specifying narrow uses implies a knowledge and capability that planners just don't have, Duncan added. It creates the illusion that planning agencies have everything under control when it isn't true at all.

"The general plan, really, in my way of looking at it, is kind of a questionable process to begin with. It had some good ideas, some good may have come of it. It's absurd, though to talk about planning this county in the same way that a private enterprise would plan subdivisions."

"How do you know where the subdivisions are going to be? Maybe some of that land will sit forever. Maybe the owners don't want to sell. You can't tell people what to do. All planning can say is 'no.'"

The question of whether to grow or not to grow, then, may well largely be decided apart from the general plan's machinery for future zoning.

A GIFT of Charles E. Wilson, bishop in the Church of God of Prophecy, is the biography of A. J. Tomlinson presented recently to Paul F. Thompson, right, for Lompoc Library shelves. In diary form, the author tells his experiences as he seeks to find the government that Jesus established in his church when on earth.

Bishop Wilson is moderator

Bishop Charles E. Wilson will moderate the annual district convention of the Church of God of Prophecy, 412 North B St. The convention will open at 7 p.m. Feb. 23. The second day will start at 9:30 a.m. Assisting in bringing messages will be Bishop Damous McGee, state overseer; Bishop Cabales, missionary to the Philippines, and other bishops from the state and district. Musical worship will be provided by instrumental and vocal groups from churches throughout the district. The convention is open to the public and all those who desire are invited.

Rev. Denton plans provocative query

In his sermon this Sunday at the 10:30 a.m. worship hour the Rev. William J. Denton of the First Christian Church 1517 West College Ave., will ask the question "Why Did Jesus Associate With Such Terrible People?" Scripture will be from Luke 7:36-50. Nursery care is furnished

Lesson-sermon subject told

"Soul" is the subject of the Bible lesson-sermon comprising a major part of the Christian Science church service Sunday for First Church of Christ Scientist. The theme is found in this text from Isaiah: "Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O Lord, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to they name, and to the remembrance of thee." The services at 210 South H Street begin at 11 a.m. The public is most welcome.

Heart-touched men is message subject

"A Band of Heart-touched Men," a message about King Saul of Israel immediately following his anointment as King, is subject of the sermon by the Rev. Earl R. Berg this Sunday at First Baptist Church, 220 West Cypress Ave. The morning worship is at 11 o'clock.

The service will emphasize the need and results of the spiritual experience described by the late Dr. Peter Marshall, chaplain of the United States Senate, as being "tapped on the shoulder by God." Pastor Berg will conclude his message by quoting the poem "Forty Singing Wrestlers".

Youth of the church will bring testimonies of their experiences at snow camp in the mountains above Castaic Junction last weekend. This is an annual event for youth of the American Baptist Churches of the area. Directors were Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Best, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Dodson.

Immediately following morning services Sunday, the church will enter an executive session to elect a pulpit committee whose special task will be to seek a minister to recommend to the church as its pastor. The Rev. Berg of Alhambra is currently serving as interim pastor of the church.

The Sunday evening service at 7 will be in charge of women of the church. It will be a presentation of the scholarship program sponsored by the American Baptist Women of Southern California Baptist Convention. This program chooses two young women each year to help in their educational pursuits. Chosen for the program of assistance this year are Miss Joyce Wright of Pomona, senior and music major at the University of Redlands, and Miss Nirmala Tharay of Vellore, India. The latter is a bachelor of science major in the Christian Medical College of Vellore.

The Sunday night program will be an explanatory, inspirational and informative hour, with several musical numbers dotting the service.

Halda Marshall is scholarship chairman for the local American Women's organization and is in charge of the service. Margie Atwood is president.

Southern Baptists slate adult rally

"Sabbath-Saturday or Sunday" will be the title of the 11 a.m. sermon Sunday by Dr. W. B. Timberlake at the First Southern Baptist Church, 1009 East Pine Ave. Herb Blackmon will direct the church choir in the number "Battle Hymn of the Republic".

Sunday school for the 550 enrolled members will begin at 9:30 a.m. under direction of Max Alexander and his faculty of 70 workers. All the adults will meet in a rally during the Sunday school hour for a special service. Sunday evening the pastor's sermon will be titled "Another Four Letter Word." The church choir will sing "At Calvary".

A baptismal service will be held at 7:00 p.m. for adult converts. At 6 the church training hour will be held in age graded groups. Also at 6 a new member's orientation class will be held in the pastor's study. Visitors are welcome.

A nursery is available for each service.

Bible Baptist calendar told

Bible Baptist Church will study the conversion of the Philippian jailer in the 10:00 a.m. Sunday School hour. Pastor S. W. Christian's morning message will deal with the after effects of revival, commenting on both the desirable and undesirable.

Afternoon services will begin at 1:30 p.m. with youth choir practice and meeting of the "Singing Stinging Bumble Bees," a new choir for children in grades 1-6. The series of studies on basic Christianity will continue at 6 p.m. The study is titled "The Bible and Me."

Baptismal service is slated at Peace

This Sunday the sacrament of Holy Baptism will be offered to three children at Peace Lutheran Church in the 10:30 a.m. service. Tomorrow is also Septuagesima Sunday, the 70th day before Easter on the church calendar. Pastor David Miller will preach on the parable of the workers in the vineyard. Title of his sermon will be "Whatever is Right I Will Give You".

Sunday evening Pastor Miller will start a three week new member class in Lutheran beliefs, history and worship, at the church. The hour is 6:30 o'clock. All prospective members and others interested, are invited to these informal sessions.

Two Bible studies will continue in their last week: Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the parsonage, 421 South Hawthorne; Thursday at 9:30 a.m. at the church. Weekday church school for eighth graders is held Wednesdays at 3:30 p.m. A special Saturday workshop on prayer will be held Feb. 24 from 9:30 a.m. - 2 p.m. for the first year confirmation class. A sack lunch is suggested and beverage will be provided by the pastor. Seventh graders are required to be in attendance.

Savior with a Sword is sermon subject

"Savior With a Sword — Bought With Blood" is the Sunday sermon title of the Rev. Richard Harris at United Church of Christ. Based on the Book of Joshua, it deals with a war of conquest "full of blood and thunder" similar to television shows of gunsmoke and frontier violence.

"As members of the Christian church," says the pastor, "we need to see the Hebrew pioneers as our own spiritual forefathers. Joshua's message is not that of cherishing a heritage so much as looking forward to creating one."

For his children's story in the 10 a.m. worship service, Rev. Harris has chosen the title "Joshua and the Battle of Jericho." Charles Bockius, senior choir director, will lead the anthem "Battle Hymn of the Republic".

During the coffee hour which follows, will be a junior choir rehearsal and meeting of the board of Christian education.

In the afternoon, Rev. Harris and his wife Sylvia will leave for a pastors and wives retreat with the UCC Central California Coast Clergy Cluster.

Valley Chapel slates guest

Valley Chapel will host the Rev. Don McClure tomorrow in the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. worship services. Rev. McClure, who ministered here in December, comes to the church from the staff of Calvary Chapel, Costa Mesa.

Services for the week include the ladies inter-faith Bible study at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. Coffee and doughnuts will be served. On Tuesday evening members will listen to the last tape from the Rev. Bob Mumford's series on "The Nature and Spirit of Obedience." Bill Nelson leads the youth meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Prayer meeting is slated Saturday evening at 7:30.

Evangelist to lead Church of Christ

Garth Smith, new evangelist for the Church of Christ, 138 North O St., began his ministry here Feb. 4. His message to the congregation was titled "The Growth of the Church." Smith has assumed the work vacated by Virgil Leach after eight years service in this area.

Smith and his wife Beaulah have a married son and married daughter. Alan is married to the former Linda Wilson, a 1966 graduate of Lompoc High School. Daughter Nancy is married to Don Mellor, formerly of Sacramento.

Over a period of 25 years, Smith has served as the minister of congregations in Highland, North Highlands, Orangevale and La Habra. He is a native of Texas, moved to Redlands in 1945. Both he and his wife were graduated from high school there. Married Dec. 21, 1947, the couple recently celebrated their 25th anniversary by traveling to the Hawaiian Islands.

Evangelist Smith received his formal training at Pepperdine University; American River College in the Sacramento area; Fullerton State College, and the Graduate School of Theology in Glendale.

He has directed youth camps in the High Sierras and at Camp Tandra in the Big Bear area over a period of 15 years, and has held evangelistic meetings in many areas as well as workshops and youth forums.

Mrs. Smith has been a valuable part of his ministry and enjoys singing as a special talent. She has been active in singing groups, performing publicly for church activities and civic programs.

Happy to become a part of the Lompoc community, the new minister invites attendance at his church services. Classes for all ages are available at 9 a.m., worship services at 10 a.m. and again at 6 p.m. A highlight of the weekly services is Tuesday prayers at 9:45 a.m. and family Bible study at 7 p.m. Wednesdays.

Sermon deals with making up your mind

"Making Up Your Mind About Jesus" is the sermon topic announced for the service of worship tomorrow morning at 9:30 a.m. in First Presbyterian Church. The pastor, Rev. Kenneth R. Boyd, will preach. He will be assisted by seminary intern, Larry Boles. The chancel choir, under the direction of Tom Love, will give musical leadership in the service.

Church School classes are also at 9:30 a.m. Classes for junior and senior high groups, and adults, follow the service, concluding at 11 o'clock. Nursery care is available for toddlers and infants during the morning.

Senior High young people are scheduling an "at-home" overnight retreat at the church from Sunday afternoon through Monday noon. Junior high youth will join them for choir practice at 5:30 p.m. and have their fellowship meeting at 6:30 p.m.

The pastor leads a weekly study group Tuesday mornings at 10. Child care is available. Senior Highs meet for Bible study and prayer Thursdays at 6:30 p.m. Next week two circles of United Presbyterian Women will meet on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

A seminar for adults desiring to unite with the church will begin Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. The pastor's class for youth meets each Thursday at 4 p.m.

Your Birthday by Stella

FEBRUARY 17 — Born today, you are one of those impatient persons who consistently stands over the pot wondering why it doesn't boil faster than it does. Not one to let nature take its course, you will take a long time — and go through the ill consequences of many mistakes — before you learn not to force the unfolding of matters which must come to fruition of their own volition and in their own way and time. Even in business affairs where a little push is often not at all amiss, you are inclined to put not a little but a lot, thus causing effort to overshoot success's mark. When you are able to contain yourself and not rush things you work well and brightly toward your chosen goals. You have little fear of becoming involved in new things and can often be found half engaged in an upcoming project while still tying up the loose ends on an old one. Fortunately, you are capable of giving your full attention to things of the present even as you make ready — or even make the initial movements toward — things of the future.

A completely realistic person — though one who is capable of dreams and fancy when dreams and fancy can be merely harmless pastimes — you do not fool yourself about whatever is going on around you. Even when on occasion you prefer to see things as you wish they were rather than as they truly are, you are fully aware of having donned rose-colored glasses and you are fully capable of removing them at will.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Sunday, February 18
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 — Feb. 19) — Appeal to family and friends for the support you need at this time. It is certain that there are more kind hearts than you know in your community.

PISCES (Feb. 20 — March 21) — A Sunday which offers you inspiration from an unusual source. Allow a new friend the privilege of accompanying you in the afternoon.

ARIES (March 22 — April 20) — Ventures on the home front mature before your very eyes today. A good time for testing your preparedness; see how quickly you can act.

TAURUS (April 21 — May 21) — Seek fresh encouragement from one who has been able in the past to give you a feeling of self-worth. Present projects are of value in many ways.

GEMINI (May 22 — June 21) — The details of the present situation offer the key to the best way of dealing with circumstances as a whole. Rely on your ability to discern the truth.

CANCER (June 22 — July 23) — You can move immediately into high gear where a new acquaintance is concerned. Should there be a question of trust seek the advice of another.

LEO (July 24 — Aug. 23) —

Morning worship gets this Sunday off to the best of starts. Don't be alarmed, however, should you find more than one reason for slipping out the back door.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 — Sept. 23) — Action behind the scenes is enough to move the present project at least one giant step forward. A man or woman of influence acts in your favor.

ZODY By MARV MYERS

"Henry's supposed to show his true colors this lunar cycle. I bought him some yellow ties!"

LIBRA (Sept. 24 — Oct. 23) — Community gatherings offer the best chance for expanding your talents and interests. Reconsider a negative answer recently given.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 — Nov. 22) — All signs point to a day of both material and spiritual gain for Sagittarius — though the former may be less than you'd hoped for.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 — Dec. 22) — Choose a Sunday routine that will enable you to have plenty of time for rest and relaxation. Leisure time is more valuable than you know just now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 — Jan. 20) — An unexpected situation requires that you seek counsel as soon as possible in order that you may respond wisely and with good results.

By Oswald & James Jacoby
"I'm through with Swiss teams," complained the unlucky expert. "Look at the hand that cost me first place the other day."

"I chose to open my bid 16 points with one club and from then on was smart enough to restrain myself and stop at three spades. West opened his singleton diamond. East took his ace and gave West a ruff. West led the deuce of hearts at which point my partner proceeded to make a brilliant series of plays to make his contract."

"He went right up with the ace; led the ace of clubs, continued with the queen of clubs; and discarded his 10 of hearts!"

"A nice way to cut communications, wasn't it?" we interjected. "East could not get in to give West another diamond ruff and South made his three-spade contract."

"Very nice, indeed," he replied. "But worth nothing. At the other table North elected to open one no-trump. South responded with a Jacoby transfer two hearts and eventually North played in four spades."

"East opened the 10 of clubs. When West got in with the ace of trumps he led a heart. North took his ace of hearts; drew trumps; discarded South's last heart on the good club and made an overtrick."

Our friend was unlucky but he caused his own bad luck when he refused to open one no-trump.

Calvary Baptists to welcome musicians

Bob Hoem, member and former organist at Calvary Baptist Church, will be welcomed back this Sunday. Many of the congregation will remember his music ministry prior to his assignment in Southeast Asia. Accompanying him will be Miss Jennifer Doerksen of Denver. The two will play organ and trumpet at both church services, 11 a.m. and 6 p.m.

In the morning service, the Rev. Wallis Turner will speak on the subject "A Christian in My Circumstances?" In the evening service his topic will be "Marriage and God's Design." Calvary choir will sing at both services.

Calvary Baptist Church is the sponsoring agency for Boy Scout Troop 167 and the Cub Scout Pack. Cubs will hold their annual blue and gold banquet Friday, Feb. 23 at 6:15 p.m. in La Mesa School cafeteria. Parents and friends are invited. Information is available through the church office, 3-3545.

HE FOLLOWS THROUGH

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Jerry Hill's wife sent him a Valentine that read: "If I can't give you my heart, would a banana be ok?"

Hill decided to reply in kind. He bought a banana, went to the post office and bought a special delivery stamp and some eight cent stamps, addressed the banana, marked it hand cancel and dropped it in a mail box with enough stamps for first class special delivery.

Hill's wife, Suzi, received the banana Valentine Wednesday afternoon—in perfect condition.

St. Mary's slates communion services

Second Service celebrations of Holy Communion will be held at 8 and 10 a.m. Sunday at St.

Mary's Episcopal Church, 209 East Central Ave. Church school meets at 10 a.m.

Junior Episcopal Young Churchmen will meet at 4 p.m. Sunday and Sr. EYC continues its discussions with Betty Ann McClure at 7 p.m.

Midweek celebrations of Holy Communion are held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and 9 a.m. Thursday. Both services are followed by the Laying on of Hands service for healing, growth or spiritual strength.

St. Matthew's Gospel is being studied at 9 a.m. Sundays, St. John's Gospel at 8:45 p.m. Tuesdays, and Paul's letters at 10:15 a.m. Thursdays. A meditation class meets at 1 p.m. Tuesdays.

Deadline for applications for the adult-teen weekend to be held at Cachuma Church Camp Feb. 23-25 are due Feb. 21.

Emphesema workshop scheduled

Registration is now being accepted for a workshop, "Living with Emphysema", sponsored by the TB and Health Assn., and scheduled for three successive Wednesday nights next month at the County Health Dept., 900 Foster Rd., Santa Maria.

Purpose of the workshops is to provide help for North County patients with chronic lung disease, and their families, according to Mrs. Barbara Kessel, RN, chairman.

"How the Lungs Function" will be first in the series on Wednesday, March 14, with three physicians as speakers.

"Physical Rehabilitation" is the title of the second session at which a physical and inhalation therapist and dietitian will speak on March 21.

"Living with Chronic Disease" will conclude the series on March 28 with a psychologist, psychiatric social worker and registered nurse as faculty member.

Hours for each session are from 7—9 p.m.

Mrs. Kessel asked that those planning to attend telephone WE 7-6365 and ask for "Emphysema Workshop" or write to the workshop at the County Health Dept., 900 Foster Rd. to register or to obtain further information.

The workshop carries the endorsement of the North County Medical Society and Santa Maria Academy of Medicine.

Ali outtalks Ken Norton at signing

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Muhammad Ali and seventh ranked heavyweight Ken Norton of San Diego signed papers Friday to fight at the Sports Arena March 31, and Ali started his verbal jabs during the two-hour news conference.

"I've got a lot of speed and a lot of endurance. When you sign this contract take out more insurance," Ali commented to an audience of about 20 newsmen and 180 others who jeered.

"Ain't he pretty," Ali said. "I know I'm conceited but he's cocky. He's one of these pretty fighters struttin' around. He's got no right to think he's prettier'n me."

The fight could be a pretty good one—at least a crowd pleaser. At the age of 28, Norton has been brought along slowly.

He has won 30 of 31 fights, including 24 knockouts. His only loss came at the hands of Jose Luis Garcia several years ago in Los Angeles, and Norton feels he was careless then.

At 6-foot-3, Norton is taller than Ali but at 209 pounds, he will be lighter. Ali said he is three-fifths of a second faster.

Ali refused to predict a knockout round for the 12-round event, saying, "He's too good for that."

City officials, sports celebrities such as football's Mike Garrett and former lightweight boxing champ Archie Moore were on hand as entertainer C. C. Jones' band played at the unusual announcement.

Norton took Ali's jibes for a while and finally cracked that the decision would come in the ring.

Ali replied, "If you ever dreamed you whupped me, you better wake up and apologize. Fighting me is like being in Vietnam with a B-B gun."

Ali will receive $200,000 and Norton $50,000.

"Fifty-thousand dollars is a good pay day for getting whupped," Ali said.

Northern League wrapup

Conqs hand AG first win

Cabrillo basketball coach Harry Santos warned his team before last night's game with Arroyo Grande that the Eagles were not as bad a team as their 0-9 Northern League record would indicate.

Santos turned out to be quite right, as the Eagles dumped the Conqs 49-43 on the final night of Northern League play.

It just wasn't the Conqs' night. Before the game, the medical chest containing all the Cabrillo tape, as well as the stat sheets for the game, disappeared.

But the Hillmen probably wouldn't want to see the stats anyway. The Eagles edged to a 10-9 lead at the end of the first quarter, then outscored the visitors 16-8 in the second quarter and never gave up the lead.

Rick Reed led the AG attack with 14 points, most of them on long jump shots from the perimeter. Four Eagles hit double figures in the drought-ending effort, including Rick Darby's bombs from the corner for 11 points, and Ralph Pacheco's inside moves for 10. Guard Jose Rivera added 10.

Kevin Drake topped the Cabrillo scoring with 14, and center C.A. Anderson added 10. But the Conqs just weren't shooting as well as the Eagles, who maintained at least a three point lead throughout the final quarter.

It was only the sixth win of the season for Arroyo, against 18 losses, and it didn't keep the Eagles from finishing the year in the NL cellar. But that isn't much consolation for the Conqs, fifth place in the final league standings and with a 3-7 record, 8-16 overall.

The Cabrillo JV and frosh teams also lost. The JV's went down 61-60 and the frosh lost 52-46.

Saints land in CIF playoffs

The Santa Maria Saints edged the Righetti Warriors 42-41 last night at Hancock College to take second place in the final Northern League standings and earn the accompanying trip to the CIF 3-A playoffs.

Righetti had taken a 47-45 overtime win over the Saints Tuesday to set up the important showdown.

The Saints led by six at the quarter last night, but the Warriors rallied to close the gap to three at the half. Then both teams went cold.

The Saints scored but 13 points in the final half, and the Warriors were only a little less woeful, hitting for 15 points.

With four minutes left in the game last night, Santa Maria led 38-37. It was 40-39 Saints with 37 seconds left when Saint John Tatsuno was fouled by Dennis Galloway and sank two free throws.

Righetti closed the gap to two points with 15 seconds left when Myles Crandall, who hit the winning bucket Tuesday night, sank a shot.

The Warriors were victims of mistakes, turning the ball over 17 times, to only 13 for the Saints.

Tatsuno led the Saints with 11 points, Kim Kirchoff had 9. The game's leading scorer was Righetti's Fred Patzwald with 13.

Warrior center Barry Wilbur got 10. Santa Maria will open the CIF playoffs Tuesday against Newbury Park of the Marmonte League, in a game to be played at Moorpark College.

Final NL standings

Lompoc 10-0, Santa Maria 6-4, Righetti 5-5, San Luis Obispo 5-5, Cabrillo 3-7, Arroyo Grande 1-9.

Bulldogs knocked out of state JC playoffs

Harried by 6-5 Compton guard Al Forney, who poured in a game high 25 points, the Hancock hardwood Bulldogs fell 78-70 last night in a contest that cost them a berth in the state junior college playoffs.

Forney, who pumped in 20 of that total in the first half when he went nine-for-10, led a Tartar five that outrebounded the Santa Marian's 47-22 and had accelerated to a 44-28 lead by halftime.

Though they opened with a 5-0 lead, the Bulldogs fell behind 12-9 on two Forney buckets and relinquished the lead for good nine minutes before halftime when Forney again scored when it counted and followed with a three point play.

Whistling the Tartar's second half advantage to eight on baskets by Rick McCutcheon and Dave Cumberland, the Bulldogs lagged by an average 12 points throughout the second half.

Top Hancock scorers were Gus

Washington with 16 and Bill Jones with 15.

A 115-79 Santa Barbara win over Moorpark secured the Santa Barbarans in second place as the Bulldogs, who host Glendale tonight, sank irretrievably into third.

Lompoc banquet

Roy Thomas will be the guest speaker at the Lompoc High School Winter Sports Banquet on March 4.

The ex-Lompoc High baseball and basketball star who now plays minor league baseball in the Philadelphia Phillies farm system, will head a program that will honor the basketball and wrestling teams, as well as the drill team and flag twirlers.

Tickets are on sale at Pico's Sporting Goods, and at the school. Price is $1.75 for adults, 75 cents for students.

Wild Bill's Bruins run streak to 65

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — UCLA, behind Bill Walton's 26 points and 17 rebounds, ran college basketball's longest winning streak to 65 Friday night by dumping the University of Washington, 93-62, in a Pacific-8 conference game.

The Bruins started slowly, leading only 16-11 after the first nine minutes. But then Walton, who had 14 first-half rebounds, hit four field goals and forward Keith Wilkes added three more—all on layins and short jumpers—as UCLA blitzed the Huskies 26-11 and pulled out to a 42-22 halftime lead.

Walton, who had 18 first-half points, was 12 for 18 overall from the floor and had six assists. He left the game with eight minutes remaining. Wilkes, the 6-6 1/2 junior from Santa Barbara, Calif., finished with 13 points and guard Tommy Curtis had 10 for the Bruins.

Washington's senior guard, Louie Nelson, who led the Huskies with 20 points, accounted for all but eight of his team's first half points. He was nine for 20 from the floor.

No other Washington player scored in double figures.

The victory for the six-time defending national champion Bruins, now 8-0 in conference play and 20-0 for the season, was their 22nd straight over the Huskies in the past 10 years.

Soph sub leads SC win

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sophomore substitute center John Lambert scored 15 points Friday night to lead 14th ranked Southern California to an easy 79-55 Pacific-8 Conference basketball victory over Washington State.

USC held on to second place behind unbeaten top-ranked UCLA in the Pac 8 by boosting its conference record to 7-1. The Trojans are 16-5 overall this season.

Washington State is 1-7 in conference play and 5-15 for the season.

Three other of coach Bob Boyd's Trojans scored in double figures. Sophomore Clint Chatman had 12 and Danny Anderson and Mike Westra each tallied 10. Mike Dolven led the Cougars with 10 points, all in the first half.

Trailing 18-11, the Trojans outscored the Cougars 17-2 in the last 8 1/2 minutes of the first half to take a 28-20 lead at the intermission. USC outpointed Washington State 11-0 in the final 3:46 of the first half and then scored the first field goal in the second half.

Little hot as OSU wins

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Doug Little swished four free throws in overtime Friday night to pace Oregon to a 72-69 Pacific-8 Conference basketball victory over the California Bears.

After a regulation game that ended 64-64, Oregon outscored the Bears 8-5 in the extra period to capture its second straight overtime win over California.

Freshman center Gerald Willett tallied the Ducks only basket in the overtime while Mike Barwig, another freshman, added two free throws to go with the pair by Little.

Little, a senior forward, and freshman Ron Lee combined for 48 points to give the Ducks their fifth win in eight Pac-8 games. Cal is 1-7 in conference play.

Cal's Bill Kellar knotted the score at 64-64 with one minute to go on a free throw.

3 in row without West

Lakers blitz Bullets

INGLEWOOD (UPI) — After trailing by 11 points in the first half, the Jim McMillian-led Los Angeles Lakers blitzed Baltimore, 35-12, in the third quarter and went on to whip the Bullets 121-103 Friday night.

In the battle of the divisional leaders, a sell-out crowd watched McMillian sink nine of his game-high 26 points to pace the Lakers comeback in the third quarter.

Bill Bridges, Gail Goodrich and Keith Erickson each had eight points during the rally as the Lakers won their third straight without injured star Jerry West.

The defending champions now have amassed a seasonal record of 47-13 as they attempt to post the best won-loss percentage to assure the homecourt advantage in the coming playoffs.

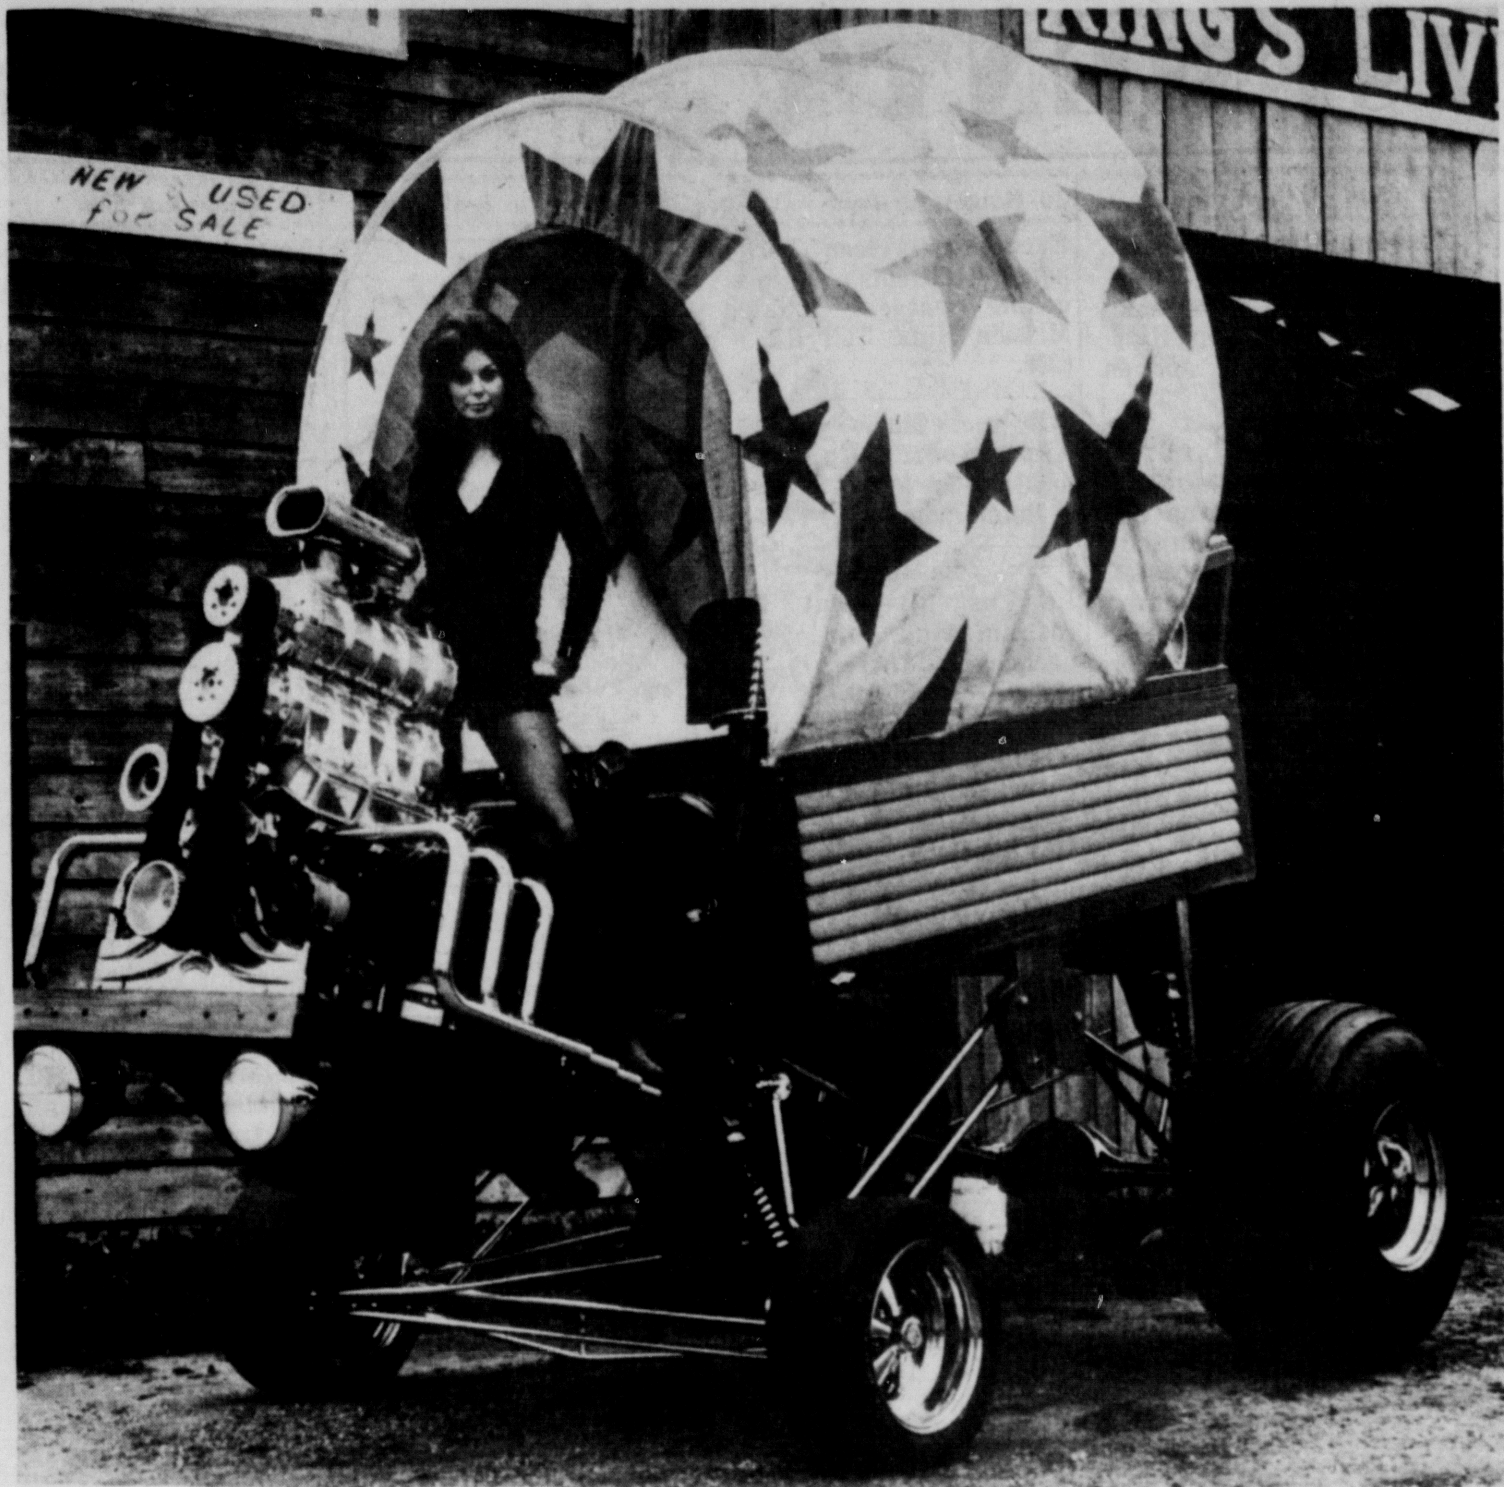

Bridges finished with 17 points and 18 rebounds, while Goodrich, despite a cold first half, poured in 16 points and contributed 11 assists.

Phil Chenier topped the Bullets with 20 points, however 18 of them were scored in the first half before the Bullets completely fell apart.

LOOK OUT. Cabrillo's Otto Layman gets set to shoot, and Lompoc's Mike Bratz gets set to block. Braves go into CIF playoffs Tuesday against Thousand Oaks in the Lompoc gym. Tickets will be on sale Monday at the high school.

HEADS WOULD TURN if you were to cruise into the local burger drive-thru or coin-op car wash in this "Woodburner", half covered wagon and half rocket. It's part of the Winternationals Rod, Cutom, Motorcycle and Race Car Show which opened yesterday and closes tomorrow at the L.A. Convention Center.

Smoky says 'no, thanks' to comeback as a DPH

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Folks around Forest City, N.C., lately have been stopping by the Piedmont Dodge dealership on tree-lined Main Street. They were seriously wondering if Smoky Burgess, one of the store's owners, will be spending the summer up north again. They had been reading about the new designated pinch-hitter (DPH) rule in the American League.

"No, oh no," Smoky tells them. "Been out too long. And then I see my six-year-old grandson, and I know I'm too old. Besides, the doctor don't want me doing nothing that'll flurly me up too much."

When Burgess retired from baseball after playing the 1967 season with the Chicago White Sox, he was 40 years old. He felt it was about time to return for good to his little hometown (population 8,000) in the foothills of the Smoky Mountains, the region that gave him his nickname. He returned home after having established the record for most pinch-hits in a big-league career, 144 hits over 18 seasons.

By the end of the 1967 season, he recalled recently, his eyesight was slipping ("Balls I thought I'd get on the fat of the bat I was hitting on the handle"). He also needed an operation for ulcers. Late-inning pressures on a granddaddy can be harmful to his health.

"Today," he said, "the doc don't want me stirrin' up my inside stomach, or what's left of it. He took out two-thirds of it. But my paunch? Sure, I keep that. It's my trademark."

Burgess' trademark was also the clutch pinch-hit; he came to mind with the announcement of the new rule, which allows one predetermined man to hit in the pitcher's spot but allows the pitcher to stay in the game.

"It's a real good thing," Burgess said. "I'm not sure it'll mean a whole lot more runs scored. But I think it'll keep the games tighter, because the starting pitcher will be able to stay in the game. Before, a pitcher who was doing good might be taken out in the late innings of a close game and then the relief pitcher would be hit hard."

Birdie Tebbetts, who managed Burgess at Cincinnati, once said, "You can wake Smoky up on Christmas morning and he'll get you your hits."

"You know how that came about?" asked Smoky. "It was when we were going north in the spring of 1956. We stopped to play a game in Knoxville.

SMOKY BURGESS as he looked in his relatively svelte early days with the Cincinnati Reds.

"I was settin' on the bench wearing three or four jackets and was all wrapped up in a blanket, too. It came down to the ninth inning. We were getting beat by a run. Camilo Pascual was pitching and that was when he could throw real hard. Tebbetts called me to pinch-hit."

"So I took off everything and went up there. I usually took the first pitch, not like other pinch-hitters. I had the gift of God that I never needed no warmups and I could swing hard on the first pitch. It was so cold this day that I knew I'd be swinging right away to get out of there. Well, I lined that first pitch over the right field fence to tie the game. I ran around the bases and into the dugout and straight into the clubhouse. I wasn't taking no chances on Birdie wantin' me to play any more that day."

Burgess said his most satisfying pinch hit came on the next-to-last day of the 1956 season. He was called to hit against the Cubs with the score 9-0 in Cincinnati's favor. The Reds needed one more homer to tie the Giants' season record of 221.

Roy McMillan, a weak hitter, was due up.

"But Birdie called me and said, 'Smoky, get up there and hit. But a homer or nothing.' I homered on the first pitch."

When Burgess was with the White Sox, Al Weis was virtually his designated pinch runner. Once, Burgess hit a double and discovered that Weis had practically beaten him to second base.

"That's when I figured this was no game for a granddaddy," said Burgess.

UCSB and CSCLA out of PCAA

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two schools have been dropped from the Pacific Coast Athletic Association in a major move by the PCAA to upgrade itself to a university-level conference.

Directors of the PCAA voted Thursday to drop UC Santa Barbara and Cal State Los Angeles from the association effective June 30, 1974, because the two schools were unable to finance an intercollegiate football team on the university level.

The directors had voted several months ago to toughen the conference's bylaws in a long-range attempt to bring the PCAA up to the university level. They gave the two schools until Thursday to comply.

The remaining five schools already compete at the university level in intercollegiate athletics.

One of the five, San Diego State University, has resigned from the PCAA effective June 30 of this year but withdrew the resignation following Thursday's action.

"In light of the now clearly defined goals and directions of the PCAA to maintain conference competition in all sports at the university level," a PCAA spokesman said, "San Diego State University has elected to remain a member of the PCAA."

The other schools in the conference are Cal State Long Beach, Fresno State University, Pacific and San Jose State University.

The directors put off until their June meeting discussion of expanding the PCAA to six teams to meet all university level conference requirements.

University of Idaho, Boise State College and Utah State University were believed to have the best chances of joining the PCAA.

Talk of peace, plans for war

Players reject latest offer

NEW YORK (UPI) — The contract dispute between the major league players and the owners continued at a stalemate Friday as both sides continued to talk peace while preparing for war.

The representatives of the 24 clubs met Friday with Marvin Miller, executive director of the major league players association, and asked for more negotiations after rejecting the owners' latest offer.

John Gaherin, the representative of the owners, replied in a statement that he is willing to resume negotiations, which were last held on Feb. 8, at any time.

"My committee has been in my office all week prepared to talk. We are prepared to talk tonight, tomorrow or Sunday. I haven't heard from Mr. Miller since he left my office on Feb. 8," Gaherin said. Miller, who said he would notify Gaherin of the players' action, also said he was ready to negotiate immediately.

But while both sides are talking about negotiations, their actions didn't seem to indicate a quick settlement.

The owners are refusing to open spring training camps without a signed agreement and Miller hinted the players may charge a lockout and take legal action if the camps aren't opened by March 1—which is the official opening date. The payers haven't taken a strike vote and have proposed that spring training start while negotiations continue.

"If the owners refuse to engage in appropriate and good faith negotiations and enforce an illegal lockout on March 1, the executive board (the player reps) will meet again on that date to consider appropriate action at that time," Miller said.

Miller also said he has scheduled a series of regional meetings from Feb. 23 to March 9 in seven cities in an attempt to keep the players, currently scattered around the nation, up to date on the negotiations. Miller said those meetings would be cancelled if the owners agree to open the camps.

Tom Seaver, the player representative of the New York Mets, said the players "would be worse off than we are right now" if they accepted the owners' offer. "I don't know if they're insulting our intelligence or what. I'm discouraged. The issue isn't money but it's whether they're going to treat us like men."

Miller did not elaborate on the issues dividing the HE LIKES COMPARISON

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Since he was named head football coach at Vanderbilt this week, Steve Sloan has been called a lot of things, all of them good, and one of them "a young Bear Bryant."

"I saw that in the paper and I started to clip it out and send it to Coach Bryant," Sloan told a news conference Thursday. But he added that he didn't buy it.

At 28, Sloan becomes not only the youngest head football coach in the Southeastern Conference but one of the youngest in the nation. He left Georgia Tech, where he was offensive coordinator, to replace Bill Pace in the Commodore post and a reported five-year contract at $30,000 a year.

two sides. "Some elements of the owners' offer are acceptable and others clearly are not," he said, "but we don't want to get into bargaining in the press."

However, it's clear that the owners' salary arbitration offer and their refusal to modify the reserve clause in the three-year term of the agreement are major points.

It was the arbitration offer that Seaver was referring to when he said the players would be "worse off" under the new offer. It stipulates that a player could ask for arbitration only every other year. And the current rule that a player could be cut in salary only 20 per cent in one year would no longer be in effect.

The players have offered to defer action on the reserve clause for one year but the owners want to leave the clause intact for three years.

Miller said the 24 player reps—including such stars as Seaver, Joe Torre of the St. Louis Cardinals, Reggie Jackson of the Oakland A's, Pete Rose of the Cincinnati Reds and Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers—were unanimous in their rejection of the owners' offer.

Gaherin had labeled the arbitration offer "historic" when he presented it to the players on Feb. 8.

Miller's schedule for meetings with the players (with all meetings set at 11 a.m.) is: Feb. 23 at the International Inn in Los Angeles; Feb. 26 at the Executive House in Chicago; Feb. 28 at the Shamrock Hilton in Houston; March 2 at the Marriott in Philadelphia; March 5 at the Sunburst in Scottsdale, Ariz.; March 7 at the International Inn in Tampa; and March 9 at the Holiday Inn (near the airport) in Miami.

Jones fires 66, leads Andy Open

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Grier Jones, who won more than $136,000 last year despite missing more than a half dozen events because of a bad back, shot a sizzling 66 Friday to grab the second round lead in the $170,000 Andy Williams-San Diego open with a 36-hole score of nine-under-par 135.

Jones won the Hawaiian open a year ago and, after a spring and summer of back problems, he came back to take the Robinson Fall Classic and finish 1972 as the tour's fourth leading money winner behind Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino and George Archer.

Playing here Friday, he seemed to have his game well under control with four birds and an eagle on a card of 34-32 that jumped him into the lead by two strokes over first-round leaders Bruce Crampton, Tom Kite and Hale Irwin and Bob Dickson.

Kite, Crampton and Irwin shot two-under 70s at Torrey Pines' south course while Dickson had a 68 on the north layout.

Jones sank birdie putts of 15 feet on the second hole, 10 inches on the fourth, 18 feet on 15, and eight feet on 16

FATALLY SHOT

WASHINGTON, N. C. (UPI) — Mack Ray Whitney, 19, a junior forward on the Pantego High School basketball team was shot to death Thursday night. The shooting occurred during an intermission at the Beaufort County-Hyde County basketball tournament.

Police Lt. James Gilgo said Whitney and Hawks were the "best of friends" and he had been unable to determine a motive for the shooting.

If you make good grades at school

You're the one we want (especially if you plan to go to college)

We've noticed it. Our best carriers all seem to be above-average students. Perhaps it's because in the daily management of their routes, they apply the lessons they learn in the classroom. Like arithmetic in making change and in keeping a record of their profits. Or, maybe it's because newspaper route management is just one of those things a good student can do well. In any case, if your grades are A's and B's and you plan to go to college, we want to hear from you. We can show you how to build a savings account that can be a help when you get there. Why not get started today...by calling us. There may be a route available in your neighborhood.

The bar strikes back

SACRAMENTO — To no one's surprise — it was predicted in a recent Capitol News Service article — California's state bar has struck back at those promoting — not to mention helping with — do-it-yourself divorces.

It's no great secret that, with the do-it-yourself blanket splits accounting for up to a fifth of the current "dissolution" business in some California courts, some attorneys see a growing threat to what has been a lucrative and often easy part of their practice. There have been earlier counterstrikes in other states. In Michigan, a "divorce consultant," non-lawyer-type, has been found guilty of contempt of court for unauthorized practice of law. In Nevada, another such consultant was put out of business temporarily, but bounced back — hopefully with First Amendment protection — as the publisher of a book telling all about it.
